

THE NEUKOM INSTITUTE AT DARTMOUTH COLLEGE PRESENTS
THE HUMAN ALGORITHM: WHAT DO OUR MINDS COMPUTE?

FRIDAY, MAY 9, 2008 KEYNOTE LECTURE AND OPENING PANEL

Filene Auditorium, Moore Hall

- 3:30-4:00 Welcome and Introductory remarks
4:00-5:15 Lecture by Professor Daniel Dennett, Tufts University, How Mindless Algorithms Build Minds
5:15-5:30 Break
5:30-7:00 Opening panel: *Is Everything Conscious? Is Consciousness Epiphenomenal?
Daniel Dennett, Richard Granger, James Haxby, William Kelley,
Walter Sinnott-Armstrong, Adina Roskies, and Paul Whalen
7:00-9:00 Dinner Reception, DOC House, Rope Ferry Road

SATURDAY, MAY 10, 2008 SYMPOSIUM

Filene Auditorium, Moore Hall

- 8:00-8:30 Coffee and light breakfast
8:30-9:00 Welcome and Introductory remarks
9:00-10:15 Lecture by Professor Patricia Churchland, UCSD and Salk Institute,
Decisions, Responsibility and the Brain
10:15-10:30 Break
10:30-10:55 Prof. Walter Sinnott-Armstrong, Dartmouth, Neuroscience and Legal Responsibility
11:00-11:25 Asst. Prof. Adina Roskies, Dartmouth, Free Will—Uniquely Human?
11:30-11:55 Assoc. Prof. William Kelley, Dartmouth, A Cognitive Neuroscience Approach to Studying the Self
12:00-1:30 Lunch, Occom Commons, Goldstein Hall, McLaughlin Cluster,
Maynard Street
1:30-2:45 Lecture by Professor Marc Hauser, Harvard University, Modules, Minds, and Morality
2:45-3:00 Break
3:00-3:25 Asst. Prof. Paul Whalen, Dartmouth, Vigilance, Valence and Ambiguity: Functional Neuroimaging Studies of Human Facial Expressions
3:30-3:55 Prof. James Haxby, Dartmouth
4:00-4:25 Prof. Richard Granger, Dartmouth
4:30-6:00 Closing Panel: *Algorithms of Humanity: How Are We the Same and Different from Other Animals? Old and New Turing Tests.
Patricia Churchland, Richard Granger, Marc Hauser, James Haxby, William Kelley,
Walter Sinnott-Armstrong, Adina Roskies, and Paul Whalen
6:00-9:00 Dinner Reception, Wheelock Room, Hanover Inn